Wall street brokers were at their offices at bour earlier than usual this morning. Many of them had reached their places of business at 5.80, and all of them were anxiously pre paring for what they felt would be an exciting

In such panicky times as these they could not afford to take things easy, and as a result everyone was on the alert to get the first and earliest news of anything that might bear directly or indirectly upon the course of today's market.

It was evident from the anxiety and unessiness shown on all stdes that there were apprehensions of still worse times to come, unless Villard. mething could be done to relieve the pressure in the money market, and that the faitures of erday were only the forerunners of others to come.

The stock market behaved in such an extraordinary and unheard of manner yesterday that no one could predict what would be the outcome of to-day's battle.

Mr. Gould is quoted as saying that under the management of President Alexander Francis Adams the Union Pacific more than any other railroad in the West has disturbed and upset narmony, knocked down rates and forced the nandling of business without profit.

FIG PURCHASES BY THE WIZARD He admits that he has become a large owner of the stock of the Company during the recent wholesale decline in the market, and declares that the present administration of its affairs will soon be brought to an end, and that hereafter Union Pacific will not be a disturber of Western rallway peace.

It is said that Mr. Gould contemplates organzing a new association for the Western roads. which will include those of his own in the Southwest, as well as others in the Northwest, and that he will put in operation the railroad clearing-house scheme, a sort of rathroad trust, which was suggested several years ago as the only remedy for the troubles of the Western roads, but which was never adopted. THE BANK OUT OF DANGER,

It was stated this morning at the Bank of North America that that institution was entirely out of danger in consequence of the action of the Clearing-House yesterday, and that the bank noped to-day to realize on all the securities pledged for the loans of Decker, Howella & Co. and be able to turn over a considerable surplus to Assignee Cromwell.

ous Winners To-Day.

Programme of the Several Events to Park Police Competition and Prize-Be Run Off.

Linden's opening card is very light. Six races have been arranged, and in each event the entries are slim, though they give promise of good racing. The stimness of the entries is no doubt due to the bad weather. Pew trainers care to risk running their horses in heavy going unless they are mud diggers.

Tipstaff and Punster, jr., ought to make a good race if they both start in the first event. Punster, jr. , is conceding Tipstaff five pounds. and with this allowance the latter ought to win omfortably. Punster should be second and Major Daly, who has been steadily on the improve, ought to run third.

The second race contains an evenly matched lot of two-year-olds, all of whom have a chance. Graylock appears to have a very good chance to pull off the race, as she likes the heavy going. She should win. Ketchum may run second and Mr. Sass may be third. Goldstep will hardly start after her sace of yester day.

The third race should be the best of the day. stockholders of the Knickerooder rivers are the surrance Company, 64 Wall street, have voted if all the horses named start. But it is hardly possible that Mr. Morris will allow Ries to take up 11s pounds and run in the neavy going. It is safe to predict that he will be scratched Senorita also may be scratched. Leaving these two out of the race, the best of the lot remaining appears to be Nevada. This mare won very castly on Monday at Elizabeth, and she should win again to-day. Can-Can may be second and Haymond G. ought to be no worse than third.

Kempland should win the fourth race without any trouble. He ran a magnificent race Monday, but his chances were killed by a poor start. Fearl set ought to get the place and Text, despite his top weight, should be no worse than third.

Winners' Parade This Evening.

A visit to the Horse Show at Madison Square Garden to-night will prove of a greater interest than at any time since the opening last monday. A grand parade of all the prize winners will be made at 8 o'clock. The nusty weather of the past two days would have militated against the success of this exhibitton, were it not that the Horse Show is a society fad. Most of the spectators this morning were of the class of deeply interested horse-owners, whose watchful eyes followed every movement on the tanbark of horse and groom. A sharp order to " Give him a stiff jog, James,

Who Shall Succeed Quay?-Will All Follow Blaine?

INPECTAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, I eaders are beginning to realize forcibly the fact that they must drop explanations of '9 and go into preparations for 92. And just at this present moment they aren't at all sure how to begin. They realize that Quar must be displaced, but then whom shall they put into his place at the head of the National Committee. It must be a man unscathed in the late conflict of votes. a man with his party's confidence, a man wuo will take readily to the place and be not found wanting in the tremendous campaign to open in a few months.

Such a man the party can't lay its fingers upon without stopping to think seriously. There will be a pretty thorough canvass and a general overnauling of men who are to be considered in any way available before a deision is reached. Other metters, too, require grave party

And what shall be done, on the hypothesis that the Tariff bill is responsible for much of the late mischief to the party. to induce the people to see things as the party sees them?

The President is understood to have yet some feelings in favor of authoring firmit to the Tariff policy and protective principles laid

It is now a question whether the President's reading of the lesson of Nov. 4 will lead him so far in the interests of party harmony and strength as that he will consent to rely with other good Republicans upon the perspicacity and possible accomplishments of Bre'r Biaine. Gen. Harrison's softer mood towards the Plumed Knight has been previously made note of as being due to the leasons of the elections.

Perhaps the reconciliation may be helped or by Major McKinley's words, reported from Chicago, in which the defeated tariff tinkerer, referring to the causes of the Republican reversals, mentions among them a diseatisfaction with the distribution of Federal patronage and especially of post-offices. "Genue W. Martin."

Martin was arrested last Toursday on a warrant issued by Justice Petieson charging him with grand larceny. The complainant was Mrs. Whipple of 598 Hull street, from whom Martin borrowed 500 about a year ago, giving as security the timulture in his home.

Mrs. Whipple claimed that she had learned that the introllure belonged to his wife, and and threatened to have aim arrested if he did not settle. Martin agreed to pay her lineest at the rate of 115 per sent, ter annual.

Martin was taken to court on Friday and the dualte said that if the loan was settled he would discharged this morning.

Mrs. Martin, however, learned that Mrs. Whipple had retuned to any mark settled he balance of the money due and Martin was to be discharged this morning.

Mrs. Martin, however, learned that Mrs. Whipple had retuned to appear in court to-day, and had, in fact, gone out of town. She told her hisband of that fact, resterday afternoon.

The officials at the Jall are much puzzled as to how Martin got the kaife.
